Effective Date: The schedule attached is effective July 08, 2007.

Application of Increases: The International Organization of Masters, Mates, and Pilots effected an increase to wages and premium pay in January 2007. Public Law 109-115, dated November 30, 2005, as extended by H.J. Resolution 20, Continuing Appropriations for the fiscal year 2007, limits the FY07 increase to wages and premium pay of Federal prevailing rate employees to 2.32 percent and establishes a minimum increase of no less than the minimum prevailing rate adjustment for GS employees in the geographical area. The Office of Personnel Management granted authority to increase pay by 2.32 percent provided no rate exceeds the industry prevailing rate and the increase is no less than the minimum prevailing rate adjustments for GS employees in the pay area.

The attached schedule reflects an increase to base pay, overtime, penalty pay and non-watch allowance rates by 2.32 percent, except where required by Public Law 109-115 and as limited by 5 USC 5348.

Effect on Other Schedules. The schedule for Licensed Deck positions (Rest of US Locality Area) effective July 09, 2009 is superseded.

Application of Increases: District No.1- MEBA, National Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, (AFL-CIO) is effecting an increase to wages and premium pay effective June 2007. Public Law 109-115, dated November 30, 2005, as extended by H.J. Resolution 20, Continuing Appropriations for the fiscal year 2007, limits the FY07 increase to wages and premium pay of Federal prevailing rate employees to 2.32 percent and establishes a minimum increase of no less than the minimum prevailing rate adjustment for GS employees in the geographical area. The Office of Personnel Management granted authority to increase pay by 2.32 percent provided no rate exceeds the industry prevailing rate, and the increase is no less than the minimum prevailing rate adjustments for GS employees in the pay area.

The attached schedule reflects an increase to base pay, overtime, penalty pay and non-watch allowance rates by 2.32 percent, except where required by Public Law 109-115 and as limited by 5 USC 5348.

Effect on Other Schedules. The schedule for Licensed Engineer positions (Rest of US Locality Area) effective July 09, 2006 is superseded.

Effective Date: The schedule attached is effective July 08, 2007.

Application of Increases: The National Maritime Union/MEBA (AFL-CIO) is effecting an increase to wages and premium pay effective October 2007. Public Law 109-115, dated November 30, 2005, as extended by H.J. Resolution, Continuing Appropriations for the fiscal year 2007, limits the FY07 increase to wages and premium pay of Federal prevailing rate employees to 2.32 percent and establishes a minimum increase of no less than the minimum prevailing rate adjustment for GS employees in the geographical area. The Office of Personnel Management granted authority to increase pay by 2.32 percent provided industry effects an increase, no rate exceeds the industry prevailing rate, and the increase is no less than the minimum prevailing rate adjustments for GS employees in the pay area.

Since the 2.32 percent increase exceeds the industry prevailing rate, the attached schedule reflects an increase to base pay, overtime, and penalty pay by 1.81 percent, the amount of the increase for GS employees in the Rest of US locality pay area, as required by Public Law 109-115 and as limited by 5 USC 5348. Monthly leave supplement is unchanged.

Effect on Other Schedules. The schedule for Unlicensed positions (Rest of US Locality Area) effective July 09, 2006 is superseded.
